SCARED MOSQUITOES

Ask British Protection Against Invading Nicaraguans.

A FORCE OF BLUE JACKETS IS LANDED

To Preserve the Peace While the Sea Captain Steams to Colon to Report His Action and Ask for Further Instructions.

The British Occupation of the Mosquito Reservation Confirmed.

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 12.—The report of the landing of the British at Bluefields in the Mosquito reservation was confirmed yesterday by the arrival of the steamer Elliot, Capt. A. Brown, at this port. The Elliot, which is a British steamer, left Bluefields Sunday morning March 4. She arrived there February 27, just one day too late to witness the arrival of the Nicaraguans at Bluefields.

Capt. Brown says the Nicaraguans entered Bluefields February 25 or 26. He did not know their exact numerical strength, but says there was an armed force of 400 or 500 of them at Bluefields when he arrived. They brought no cannon with them. They simply entered under arms and without any resistance on the part of the natives, and hoisted the Nicaraguan flag over the customhouse and over the other public buildings. The flags remained up during the time the Elliot was in port. There was no fighting.

The Mosquitoes were considerably terrified by the presence of so large an armed force, as they were practically without protection in the city. Capt. Brown says the reports that reach this country with regard to the name of the British war ship there are in error. It is not the Cleopatra, he says, but the Tamar. The Mosquitoes, he says, fearing they might be attacked by the Nicaraguans, appealed to the Tamar for protection and Thursday March 1, the Tamar without any authority from the British government, as they had not had time to get any such authority, sent three boatsloads of armed men ashore. He did not know the exact number of men, but between eighty and one hundred were landed. They were armed with carbines and outlasses. They went ashore in the steam launch of the man-of-war and carried with them two Gatling guns and three field pieces.

The British forces did not land at Bluefields, but at Bluefields Bluff, about four or five miles northwest of the city. There was some understanding between the Mosquito chief and the officer in charge of the Tamar, the chief asking that the men be landed for the safety and protection of his people. The British soldiers went into Bluefields from the bluff several times while Capt. Brown was there. They could not go by land, but had to use the steam launch on which they carried one of the Gatling guns. There was no fight of any kind between March 1, the day the men landed, and March 4, the day the Elliot sailed.

The Nicaraguans, of course, objected to the landing of the British troops, and charged the officers in charge of the British troops with an open violation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty. Little attention was paid to this by the British. The Nicaraguans wanted them to stick to the terms of the treaty.

The Tamar sailed from Bluefields Thursday night for Colon for the purpose of calling to England for advice. In the meantime the troops were left in camp at Bluefields Bluff. The Tamar returned to Bluefields late Saturday night. Capt. Brown did not learn the result of the correspondence with England department of foreign affairs, as he was five or six miles away from Bluefields, and did not land there again before leaving Sunday morning. When he left, he says, the soldiers were still in camp at the bluff.

News from Bluefields Per the Steamer Premier.

New York, March 11.—The little fruit steamer Premier arrived here yesterday from Bluefields and other Central American ports. She brings some interesting information about the trouble at the Mosquito territory, and the reported landing of British soldiers there.

When the Premier was at Bluefields no British troops had been landed. When the steamer arrived at Colon, March 2, the British war ship Cleopatra was coaling there, and was to sail the next day for Bluefields. One of the police officers of the Cleopatra visited the Premier and said the war ship was going to Bluefields to land troops for the protection of British interests in case of trouble. The intention also was to protect American residents and interests, if necessary, in the absence of any United States war vessel. There was no intention, he said, of seizing any territory or extending British rule. The troops would simply maintain peace and prevent robbery and bloodshed. The expected trouble was from the landing of the 170 Nicaraguan soldiers at Bluefields early in February.

The Nicaraguan soldiers, according to the story brought by the Premier, were very anxious to capture Chief Magistrate Hudson, who had ruled Bluefields and adjoining territory. When the Nicaraguan soldiers came from Greytown last month the chief magistrate exhorted the natives to take up arms and repel the invaders. The natives, however, had no arms, and so offered no resistance. Hudson escaped to St. Andrews.

The Bluefields Sentinel of February 25 contains the proclamation of Rigoberto Cabezas, intendente general of the coast, declaring that the Nicaraguan soldiers "have come to protect your homes and your interests and the lives of the strangers." He then decrees the military occupation of the city of Bluefields and declares it in a state of siege. He ignores the authorities in office appointed by the Mosquito government, and says: "No craft can leave the city or port without a pass from my office."

The editorial comment says: "What Great Britain will do and what influence the Monroe doctrine will have remains to be seen."

The Nicaraguan commissioners' policy and programme will be to protect the Indians in their full rights.

"We have heard that the commissioner will give pensions and grants of land to some of the honorable members of the council; that the chief will be always respected as the chief of the Indians, and he will also draw a liberal allowance. The treaty has long been broken, and all advise the Indians to ask the commissioner not to resign."

THE QUEEN'S SPEECH

Read to Parliament To-Day Much Briefer Than Usual.

LONDON, March 12.—The queen's speech, which will be read to parliament to-day, is, as was predicted, much briefer than usual. Her majesty congratulates the members upon the continuance of Great Britain's friendly relations to the powers. She mentions the satisfactory conclusion of the Behring sea arbitration as especially gratifying. She refers to the Anglo-Russian negotiations concerning frontiers in middle Asia and the Anglo-Chinese arrangements as regards the borders of Burma, and expresses her regret for the encounter between French and British near Warina, northwest Africa. The encounter is mentioned as a "lamentable failure."

The speech proposes in domestic politics the expected programme, with two or three additions. The measures recommended are the abolition of plural voting, the extension of Scotch local government; the organization of boards of conciliation to settle labor troubles; the amendment of the factory acts; the disestablishment of the church in Wales; the relief of evicted tenants in Ireland and registration reform.

A NOVEL BOYCOTT.

An Indiana Boniface Who Conducts His Business Under Difficulties.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 12.—A stringent boycott has been declared by the anti-saloon citizens of Greenwood, a village of 700 people near here, against a saloon-keeper who opened a place recently without the knowledge or consent of the inhabitants. The butcher, the baker and the dairyman refuse to sell him anything. The woman he went to board with soon discovered that she would be boycotted if she continued to keep him in her house. He can get none of his wants supplied in the village. By a peculiar coincidence the town pump got out of repair the day the saloon-keeper opened his objectionable place, and he is forced to have his water brought from a spring a mile away. The town trustees refuse to have the pump repaired.

CHINATOWN RAIDED.

The Authorities of St. Louis Determined to Break Up Opium Smoking.

ST. LOUIS, March 12.—The heart of Chinatown was invaded by detectives last night and sixty-five inmates of an opium den were captured. Three detectives and a detail of police surrounded the place, 12 South Eighth street, and when the rush was made the wretches poured from every door and window. Four patrol wagons were loaded with the captives, nearly all of whom were Chinamen. Besides a large collection of opium-smoking apparatus, a miscellaneous lot of tan and lottery outfits were confiscated. Opium smoking has assumed such a serious phase here that the authorities have determined upon a war of extermination.

The Floyd Boys Convicted.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., March 11.—The jury in the trial of Representative Joseph M. Markham on a charge of bribery, disagreed and was yesterday discharged by Judge Hicks.

Frank and Louis Floyd were yesterday convicted of complicity in the steal of $123,000 from the Bank of Minneapolis by Cashier Philip M. Schleg. The mother of the Floyd boys, who was indicted with them but was subsequently dismissed, and who is left penniless and friendless, fainted when the verdict was read and refused to be separated from her sons.

An Escaped Murderer-Precursor Arrested at the Close of His Sermon.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 12.—Buck Hunt, alias Rev. W. M. Thompson, was taken from his congregation at East Birmingham yesterday after concluding his sermon and lodged in jail here. He was convicted in Mississippi five years ago of murdering a fellow pastor and sent to prison for life and escaped. He shot his victim through a church window while the sermon was being delivered because the man succeeded to his pastorate. He has been conducting revival services much of the time since his escape.

Signed the Death Warrant of Variety Theaters.

DALLAS, Tex., March 12.—The court of criminal appeals, the entire bench concurring, has signed the death warrant of the variety theaters by handing down a decision declaring constitutional the county ordinance which was enacted last September prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors in any theater.

Arrested for Murdering His Wife for Insurance Money.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 11.—Deidrich Kemsman, whose wife was found dead in a vacant house two weeks ago, and Theodora Hoffman were arrested yesterday, charged with the murder of Mrs. Kemsman. The police believe Mr. Kemsman murdered his wife to secure $5,000 life insurance to enable him to live with the Hoffman woman.

ENTIRE CREW SHOT.

The Tragical Ending of an Eventful Voyage

IN BEHALF OF THE HAYTIAN REBELS.

By the Steam Yacht Natalie, with Arms and Ammunition for the Use of Gen. Maningat Against Pres-ident Hippolyte.

[Copyright, 1894, by the United Press.]
JAMAICA, March 12.—The steam yacht Natalie, which was purchased in New York and sailed from Savannah January 19, with arms and ammunition to be used by Gen. Maningat in an attempt to overthrow President Hippolyte of Hayti, has been captured by the Haytians and taken to a Haytian port. Her cargo was taken and her entire crew were shot by order of President Hippolyte.

When the Natalie left Savannah it was understood that her destination was Morant Keyes, Jamaica. From the time of her departure until her arrival at Nassau, N. P., on February 4, nothing was heard of her and it was supposed she had been lost or captured, and it was even alleged that she had been secretly sold with her cargo to Hippolyte.

Her captain reported that he had put into Nassau under stress of weather, but Gen. Maningat had conceived the idea that he had been betrayed, and refused to go on board the yacht, fearing that the captain of the Natalie was playing a game to sell him into the hands of the Haytian government.

The Natalie was suspected of being engaged in violation of British neutrality laws and was searched, but nothing was discovered to justify seizure, and she was not held. She sailed on February 9, and the same night ran aground on Egg Island reef, from which she was helped off by local wreckers.

A few days later the Natalie was discovered by a passing vessel anchored off Fortune island, about 400 miles north of Hayti, and a Haytian gunboat was also anchored in close proximity to her. Subsequently it was learned that the Natalie's cargo of arms and ammunition should not fall into the hands of her enemies and had given orders that in case she should attempt to leave Fortune island she must be seized immediately by the Haytian gunboat, which had been on the lookout for some time before her arrival at Fortune island.

The Natalie was a very small boat, only twenty-nine tons. It is said that she was commanded by Antonine Salini, who has been identified for years with the enemies of the Haytian republic.

THE BRAZILIAN FLEET

Outside the Harbor at Rio—A Decisive Battle Imminent.

[Copyright, 1894, by the United Press.]
RIO DE JANEIRO, March 11.—The entire fleet of vessels which were purchased by the Brazilian government to replace the war ships seized by Admiral Mello and his crews, have arrived outside the harbor. It is expected that their arrival will result in decisive action to-day, which will bring hostilities to a close. Whether the termination of the revolution will be brought about by a naval battle, a compromise, or an unconditional surrender, will doubtless be known within twenty-four hours.

The government fleet consists of the dynamite cruiser Niechero, the Piratiny, America, Bahia, Tiradentes and five torpedo boats purchased in Germany.

The Panama Canal Liquidation to be Further Inquired Into.

PARIS, March 12.—The chamber of deputies agreed Saturday to discuss a bill presented by M. Montaut, deputy for Seine et Marne, and supported by M. Gerville-Rache, deputy for Guadeloupe, concerning the inquiry into the liquidation of the affairs of the Panama Canal Co. Upon the announcement of the agreement a member of the right exclaimed: "We hope the discussion will throw some light on the swindling connected with the affairs of the Panama canal." Members of the center protested against this exclamation.

ROME, March 12.—Wayne MacVough, the new United States ambassador, called at the Quirinal at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon and presented his credentials. King Humbert conversed with him afterward most cordially, assuring him that he most highly esteemed the friendship of the United States.

The Mayor of a Spanish Village and a Sexton Killed by Dynamite.

MADRID, March 12.—A dynamite petard was exploded near the church in Fuenterrebe, district of Segovia. The mayor of the village and the sexton of the church were killed. The authorities have no information as to the identity of the person who placed the petard and nobody has been arrested.

CLOSE ON SUNDAY.

There has been an effort among our leading citizens, as well as among some of our clothing merchants, to have their respective places of business close on Sunday, but without success.

I have deemed it for the good of our community that all should be closed, and I hereby pledge myself, from and after Feb. 23, 1894, to close my place of business at 11 o'clock Saturday night until Monday morning, whether any one joins me in this move or not.

However, I shall ask all who wish to join me in this, to call at The Republican Office and place their names under the above. Respectfully,
GEO. W. JONES, Clothier.

NOTE—THE REPUBLICAN is authorized to add the name of any Decatur clothing firm that requests it.

The wonderful success which has attended the sale of Majestic Ranges during the past week, not only attests their great popularity, but shows that the good people are ripe for something good, something which administers to the comfort of the housewife, something which lightens her cares, something which makes her work a pleasure. The Majestic company will continue their exhibit and sale throughout the week at the store of Morehouse & Wells Co., serving a light lunch to all who call in their elegant Mantel room on the second floor. They want everybody to see and know about Majestic Ranges, and a few moments spent in a visit of inspection, will not only repay, but refresh you as well.

The funeral of James Carson, aged 18 years, son of Samuel Carson, who died at 1358 North Railroad avenue, on Saturday, took place this morning at 9 o'clock from the Catholic church, Rev. PRESIDENT W. W. TRACE, of Springfield, today issued the call for the meeting of Republican clubs at Denver, Col., June 25th.

Farmer Found Murdered.

PARIS, Ill., March 10.—The body of Max Blackburn, a prominent young farmer, was found in a ditch near the Big Four railway, a short distance east of this city this morning. His brain was pierced by a bullet and there were several cuts in the head, evidently inflicted with some blunt instrument. A broken, blood-stained club lay beside the body.

Several arrests have been made, but no definite clue as to who committed the murder has been obtained. Blackburn, deceased, was the second son of Alexander Blackburn, one of the best known citizens of Edgar county. He was 24 years of age and unmarried. He carried $4,000 life insurance.

Hollinger for Supervisor.

James Hollinger, the well known colored citizen who has been a lifelong Republican and has done yeoman service for party success, is formally announced in this issue as a candidate for assistant supervisor, subject to the Republican nominating convention. In 1880 Mr. Hollinger stood as the Republican candidate for coroner, and made a good record. He now asks for a township office, and if nominated he will be elected without doubt. He is a careful business man and would make a good supervisor.

Caused the Pastor to Resign.

Rev. R. L. MacWhorter, pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian church at Virginia, Ill., for the past two years, resigned rather unexpectedly at the close of Sunday morning's services. The subject for the evening sermon was announced as "Romanism the Greatest Foe of Liberty," to which subject the officers of the church took exception. Mr. MacWhorter's resignation followed a few moments after being informed by the church officials that the subject could not be discussed in that church.

One Hundred.

One hundred of the best ladies in Decatur who use the Majestic range can attest every word that has been said in favor of this cooking wonder. Go and see it. Biscuits are baked in three minutes, fifteen gallons of water heated and kept hot all day, three full meals served all with one bucket of coal. Think of it! Five cents worth of coal for one day, and three meals. Go to Morehouse & Wells Co. and see this range.

Throw Himself Under a Train.

Miss Jessie Mitchell committed suicide by throwing herself in front of the fast mail train last evening at her home at Mason, twelve miles south of Effingham. Miss Mitchell was about 16 years of age. She was instantly ground to pieces under the wheels. Her sister, Maggie, committed suicide by taking poison at Bement a little over a year ago.

Majestic.

This is a strong word, but to realize its fullest meaning, avail yourselves of the present opportunity to purchase one of the cooking wonders of the age, "The Majestic Range," on sale at Morehouse & Wells & Co.'s. This range is on exhibition and doing cooking for the multitude who daily throng the store.

THE VICTOR RACER.

Latest Improvements in the Standard Bicycle Now Displayed.

Mr. W. B. Kernan, an expert wheel representative of the Overman Wheel company, makers of the famous Victor Bicycles, spent Saturday in Decatur at the store of the Lytle & Eckels Hardware company, Decatur agents for the popular road and racing wheel, made at the Overman plant, Chicopee Falls, Mass. The model wheels are now on display in the south window at the hardware store, and they have attracted general attention. The merits of the Victor wheel are recognized by all competent judges. It is a standard wheel, and the 1893 and 1894 wheels are as near perfection as it is possible for science and skill to produce. The latest designs in the different patterns of Victor wheels are now on display. The very latest is the Victor Racer, which weighs but 18 pounds. It is designed for track work, and with it any professional or amateur can more than hold his own on the track. The 24-inch wheels are geared to 63 inches. Good judges will not fail to at once observe the merits of the new racer. The Victor road wheel is an A-1 machine. It is durable, stylish, light and speedy. Its weight is 33 pounds.

Step in at the Lytle & Eckels Hardware store and see the wheels.

Mr. Mansfield as Beau Brummell.

Mr. Richard Mansfield and stock company will appear at the Grand Opera house on Monday, March 19, in "Beau Brummell." It has been truly said of this remarkable actor that he has a fine, intense nature, with tremendous intellectual exaltation and fiery energy. Mirrored in his own finished art he all the subtle refinements of Mansfield's turbulent, contradictory nature. Nothing could be more deliciously humorous and fearfully pathetic than the picture of Beau Brummell that Mr. Mansfield has drawn.

The atmosphere of the Georgian period surrounds all the characters in this graceful comedy. The Beau himself, with all his courtliness, "astiduous and snarling indolence," is made by Mr. Mansfield a living reality. It is deeply significant of the public's taste that Mr. Mansfield is having a phenomenal success. Every theater in which he appears is overcrowded, and the records in pecuniary gain, in many large cities, have been broken.

"Beau Brummell" will be presented here with precisely the same attention to stage mounting and detail that it receives in a theater where it runs for a week. The sale of seats begins Friday morning.

Surprise at the Elwin School.

The winter term of the Elwin school closed Thursday, March 8th, with a surprise dinner on the teacher. The affair was neatly planned and carried out by the pupils assisted by the ladies of the community. At the noon hour patrons and friends of the school to the number of 80 appeared with well-filled baskets, completely taking the school house and the teacher by storm. A magnificent repast was soon spread to which all did ample justice. After the inner man had been satisfied a short program consisting of school drill, songs, readings, dialogue and speeches was rendered by the pupils. It was listened to with evident marks of appreciation. After many kind words of encouragement, patrons and friends departed leaving the teacher to the reflection that after all teaching is not a thankless task as some believe.

Kentucky Society in a Flurry of Excitement

OVER THE ANNOUNCED ENGAGEMENT

Of Senator David B. Hill and a Miss grass Belle—The Report Denied by the Girl's Mother. The Senator Noncommittal.

CINCINNATI, March 11.—A rumor that a society is in a flutter by the announcement of the reported engagement of Miss Letty Scott, a well-known young woman, to Senator David B. Hill, of New York. The report lacks confirmation, for the reason that neither are at present at Washington. Scott is the niece of Alexander Stevenson, and, according to the report printed in an issue of a paper she was visiting in Washington when she met the senator. An engagement of a young woman, and while it is true, it is the place of her father, she is the daughter of a prominent family, her father, the late Mr. Scott, resided at Lexington, Ky., and Mrs. Stevenson are sisters. The relatives here refuse to discuss the reported engagement.

Not a Word of Truth in the Rumor. Broomfield, Ill., March 11.—Senator Scott, mother of Miss Letty Scott, who is reported engaged to David B. Hill, says there is not a word of truth in the rumor. "You can make a statement as strong as possible," Mrs. Scott, "but please do not say as coming direct from Mrs. Scott."

Senator Hill Declines to be Interviewed. New York, March 11.—Senator David B. Hill, who is at present staying at the New Netherlands hotel in this city, refuses to discuss the matter. His reported engagement to Miss Letty Scott, a well-known Kentucky society.

It is purely a private affair, and Senator Hill is in no way connected with it. I am sorry to hear of it, but it does not concern the public in any way.

LYNCHED A WOMAN.

The Discovery of the Body Makes a Sensation Among the Negro Population.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 11.—A report to the Commercial Appeal from Little Rock, Ark., says:

"The negro population of Little Rock are all excited over a discovery made by several of their number yesterday. Yesterday afternoon while Mose Johnson, porter at the tourist office, and a party of colored people were walking down a wooded road between this city and Marche, they discovered the form of a mutilated woman hanging to a tree. From surrounding appearances the woman had evidently been lynched. She was hanging by a limb of a tree by the neck and head by a large barrel upon which she was supposed she was placed before the fatal drop. Immediately under her neck was pinned a card upon which was written the words:

"He who disturbs this body will meet the same fate."

The authorities here will commence a thorough investigation today.

Marche is on the Little Rock & Fort Smith railroad, and is about seven miles from this city. The body was found in full view on the wagon road. The discovery was the theme of discussion in several pulpits of colored churches in this city last night.

THE CHICAGO ANARCHISTS.

Again Abuse Their Privilege of Freedom of Speech.

CHICAGO, March 12.—Red was the prevailing color at the twenty-third anniversary celebration of the Paris commune by the representatives of the United International Groups of Chicago at the Twelfth-street Turner hall yesterday. Among the stage decorations were busts of Spies and Langbein draped in red and black. The speeches were mostly in foreign languages and nearly all the speakers said nothing about the commune, confining their remarks to a discussion of the local labor questions and a eulogy of the Haymarket anarchists.
